Idea of Libertad:

This typeface is for small texts, in sizes 6-12, I'm working on the regular style so far. The idea of this type is to have a lot of alternative letter styles. And maybe a feature that randomly puts the alternative letters on text. Thanks for the feedback!

Sample text:

Of all the kids in the seventh grade at Camillo Junior High, there was one kid that Mrs. Baker hated with heat whiter than the sun. Me. And let me tell you, it wasn't for anything I'd done. If it had been Doug Swietek that Mrs. Baker hated, it would have made sense. Doug Swietek once made up a list of 410 ways to get a teacher to hate you. It began with spray deodorant in all her desk drawers and got worse as it went along. A whole lot worse. I think that things became illegal around Number 167. You don't want to know what number 400 was, and you really don't want to know what Number 410 was. But I'll tell you this much: They were the kinds of things that sent kids to juvenile detention homes in upstate New York, so far away that you never saw them again.

Doug Swietek tried Number 6 on Mrs. Sidman last year. It was something about Wrigley gum and the teachers water fountain which was just outside the teachers lounge and the Polynesian Fruit Blend hair coloring that Mrs. Sidman used. It worked, and streams of juice the color of mangoes stained her face for the rest of the day, and the next day, and the next day--until, I suppose, those skin cells wore off. Doug Swietek was suspended for two whole weeks. Just before he left, he said that next year he was going to try number 166 to see how much time that would get him.

The day before Doug Swietek came back, our principal reported during morning announcements that Mrs. Sidman had accepted voluntary reassignment to the main administrative office. We were all supposed to congratulate her on the new post. But it was hard to congratulate her because she almost never peeked out of the main administrative office. Even when she had to be the playground monitor during recess, she mostly kept away from us. If you did get close, she'd whip out a plastic rain hat and pull it on. It's hard to congratulate someone who's holding a plastic rain hat over her Polynesian Fruit Blend-colored hair. See? That's the kind of stuff that gets teachers to hate you.
